presenting him with a check for $500, presented on the club's behalf by Mayor Lori Holt Pfeiler, they did major renovations to his home.

Ryan Kahlor enlisted in the Army, was injured in combat many times, six times by IED (Improvised Explosive Devices), and saw many of his close friends die.

Kahlor still has inner-ear damage that has left him with balance issues, severe nerve damage to his arms and hands, and post-traumatic stress disorder as a result of the horrific scenes he witnessed while serving in Iraq.

Kiwanian Dave Geary, owner of Dave's Computer Repair in Escondido, led the charge in enlisting the help of area tradesmen and business people in finishing the house. Denis Royer of The Carpet Club put in flooring for the whole house, Alex Vahabi did about $15,000 worth of plumbing, the electrical system has been rewired, new drywall has been hung, the interior and exterior have been repainted, the roof has been repaired, and new granite countertops have been installed in the bathrooms, Geary said. The entire house has been refurbished and recarpeted with donated labor and materials.

"Nobody that I asked refused to help out in one way or another," said Geary. "It was the fact that he is a disabled veteran, who has been to Iraq, served his country, was blown up six times and is still alive. The outpouring was incredible. They were all proud he served his country."

"I was overwhelmed," Kahlor said Saturday of the help he has received. "I was almost to the point where I couldn't accept it. It's a huge blessing and a big head start for me. Now I can concentrate on finishing school and finding a new job."

Geary is a disabled U.S. Air Force veteran of Operation Desert Storm and Desert Shield who was injured while working as a flight engineer on a C-130 in 1988.

"I'm proud to be able to help out other veterans," he said. "I will continue to do this type of work."

He is now helping a bilateral amputee in Oceanside, Geary said, and he continues to look for other veterans in need of assistance. To contact Dave Geary, call 760.432 2095.

traumatic stress syndrome) anxiety/depression, uncontrolled high blood pressure and other health conditions. Although he did not suffer physical injuries he suffered as a result of witnessing several close friends die tragically in Iraq.

Sgt. Kaimuloo is a 1984 graduate of Oceanside High School. Sgt. Kaimuloo was a guard member with a wife and five kids and found himself deployed in Iraq for two years.

Sgt. Kaimuloo explained he saw things he did not plan to nor wanted to see through the high resolution camera of his drone. He went on to say the things he saw were very hurtful for him. When he returned to his family (after a two year absence) he found that "home was not home any more". He explained that he is torn up on the inside even though he has not lost any limbs. Sgt. Kaimuloo explained his drone ("The Shadow") flies at four thousand feet. The drone is a single engine turbo prop aircraft. Sgt. Kaimuloo explained some drones can be flown from literally a thou-
