Budget Deadline: Come and Gone

By Senator Mark Wyland

Last week, the Legislature skipped idly by one of our most important deadlines without so much as a murmur: June 15th marked the day that California's Annual Budget should have been passed.

But, staying true to business as usual in the Legislature, we allowed this very important date to come and go. To put into perspective how bad of a habit late budgets have become in the state of California, the last on-time budget approved before the June 15th deadline was in 1986!

It's unfortunate that instead of developing a budget that is approved by both Democrats and Republicans, the Liberals who dominate this Legislature would rather miss another budget deadline and play political games, all in the name of trying to raise your taxes. As the budget negotiations continue, I remain committed to making sure this does not happen, and will do everything I can to approve a budget that creates jobs and fuels California's economy.

Senator Mark Wyland represents the people of the 38th Senate District, which includes cities in north San Diego County and the south Orange County cities of San Juan Capistrano.

Democrats Miss Budget Deadline Once Again

This week in Sacramento, the June 15th Constitutional deadline to pass a budget has come and gone. With California is facing a $19 billion dollar deficit, and it's long past time to get down to work on real solutions, which is what my Republican colleagues and I have been advocating.

Governor Schwarzenegger released his budget blueprint over a month ago, which sets state priorities, and reduces spending we can't afford. It preserves education funding at last year's levels, and doesn't punish Californians with higher taxes. The Governor also supports pension and budget reforms to help solve persistent budget crises.

Legislative Republicans agreed with the blueprint, and asked Democrats to start serious negotiations without delay. They said no, instead proposing billions in new taxes and borrowing, and rejecting all but one billion in spending reductions. This is irresponsible. We cannot tax, borrow and spend our way to prosperity in California.

Republicans are united behind a responsible plan to reduce spending to balance the budget. The end of the fiscal year is less than two weeks away. It's time for Democrats to join legislative Republicans and the Governor to finally pass a balanced budget that doesn't raise taxes.
